TERRIBLE AFFAIR.

Further Particulars of the Bank Robbery at Coffeyville.

The Dalton Boys and Several Prominent Citizens Killed—Others Seriously Injured.

COFFEYVILLE, Kas., Oct. 5.—Following is a correct list of the killed and wounded in yesterday's battle with the Dalton gang. Robert Dalton, shot through the head; Grat Dalton, shot through the heart; Joseph Evans, shot through the head; John Moore, shot through the head. Of the citizens who took part in the battle against the desperadoes the following were killed: Lucius M. Baldwin, bank clerk, shot through the head; Charles J. Brown, shoemaker, shot through the body; C. T. Connelly, city marshal, shot through the body; George Cubine, merchant, shot through the head. The wounded: Thomas J. Ayers, cashier at the First National bank, fatally injured; Emmett Dalton, fatally wounded, shot through the left side; Louis Dietz, wounded in right side. Thos. A. Reynolds, severely wounded. The bodies of Bob Dalton, leader of the gang, Grat Dalton, his brother, Joe Evans and John Moore, known as "Texas Jack," lie in the court house. Across the street the bodies of City Marshal C. T. Connelly, George Cubine, a merchant, and Charles Brown, a shoemaker, were laid out. They were finally taken to their homes. In an improvised hospital Thomas J. Ayers, cashier of the First National bank, lies at the point of death. Thomas A. Reynolds and Louis Dietz are badly wounded, but they will recover.

Emmett Dalton made the following ante mortem statement last night: "Oct. 1, 1892, I met the boys south of Tulsa, and they asked me how much money I had. I told them about $20. I asked them how much they had, and they said about $200. I asked them what they were going to do with it. They said that this town had been trying to capture them. I said that was a lie, for we used to have lots of friends here. Bob said he could discount the James boys' work and go up and rob both Coffeyville banks in one day. I told them that I did not want any of it at all. He said I had better go along and help and get some of the money and leave the country; that if I staid around here I would get caught or killed. The morning of Oct. 2 we saddled up north of Tulsa, in the Osage nation, and rode twenty miles toward Coffeyville and talked the matter over. I went out of love for my brothers, for I knew that the authorities would get after us and I would have and I would have to get out of the country. We camped at the head of Hickory Creek at Limber Hill, about thirteen miles from Coffeyville, the night of October 4. That night we saddled up and rode to the bottoms of Onion Creek, on the Davis farm, and this morning we fed our horses some corn. I asked the boys if they were coming up here. They said that they were, and I said that it would not be treating you right, as you had always befriended us. I asked them how they were going to do the business. Bob said we would ride in about 9:30 in the morning. He said there would not be many people in town so early and not many to hold up. He said he wanted me to go because I was quick on foot. He said that I would go to the First National and let the boys go to Congdon's. He said we would ride in and hitch at the Congdon building. People would not suspect anything. All the horses belonged to Bob. I am a full cousin to Bob and Cole Younger. My mother was a sister of Cole Younger's father." He confessed that the gang was responsible for the Red Rock, Wharton and other train robberies in Indian Territory, which had been credited to them. The story of a hidden treasure, he said, was nonsense. "If there had been a hidden treasure," he said, "we would all have been alive today. It was because we were all broke that we planned the Coffeyville raid. We were being hard pressed by the officers down in the territory when Bob decided that we would have to get out of the country."

THE DALTON GANG.

History of the Men Exterminated at Coffeyville Yesterday.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—The Dalton gang, which were exterminated yesterday, were only to well known in California. William Dalton lived five years near Livingston, Merced county, where he married the daughter of a farmer. He was frequently visited by his brothers, Grattan, Robert and Emmett. Grattan Dalton became notorious by his connection with the robbery of a train at Alila, January 6, 1881. William Dalton was arrested in connection with the crime and taken to Visalia where information was received leading to the arrest of Grattan Dalton a few days later. The Daltons were tried at Visalia and Grattan was found guilty. During the trial Grattan attempted to shift the responsibility of the affair upon his brothers Robert and Emmett. He was taken to jail to await sentence and afterward escaped, accompanied by two other desperadoes. The Southern Pacific company offered $3,000 for Dalton's capture, and strenuous efforts were made to secure him, dead or alive, but without success.

BARTENDER ROBBED.

An Indianapolis Man Loses $856 in Cash.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 6.—Charles Reifel is a bartender for Mike Brown at 135 Indiana avenue. Reifel sleeps in a room over the saloon. At 1 o'clock this morning his room was entered by a burglar who assaulted Reiffel, robbing him of $855 in cash and some jewelry. Reiffel is pretty badly injured. Some time ago Reiffel had trouble with a man named George Whitman, and Reiffel claims that Whitman is the thief who robbed him. A man named Jack Guy has been arrested for complicity in the robbery.

ARMED POSSES

They Propose to Resist a Movement to Change the Bed of the Stream by Artificial Means.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 4.—The bank of the Nebraska shore for a distance of two miles in Otoe county is being patrolled by an armed sheriff's posse. In addition to the war-like demonstration the citizens of the entire western portion of the county are aroused. It is the result of the determination of the Iowa gang to complete the canal and change the channel of the river which was stopped by injunction Saturday. Ten hours' work will start the river into the canal the gang appears to cut this obstruction away. Last night the gang crossed the river in boats and one boat containing six men was captured. The men were carried to jail. They state their confederates are determined to cut the remaining obstruction. No shots were fired last night, but the people are terribly alarmed, knowing that the gang occupy concealed outposts on the Iowa side, ready to ride across the river the moment the guard is removed and start the waters across the Nebraska farms carrying death and destruction with it. The prisoners will be subjected to violence by the excited citizens if the gang again appears.

HANGMAN'S DAY.

Four People To Be Executed Tomorrow in South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 6.—Tomorrow will be harvest day for the hangman in South Carolina. Two murderers and two murderesses will leave this world by the rope route. A fifth, Gus Deering, an Edgefield negro, who killed his fellow workman, had his sentence commuted yesterday to life imprisonment. Governor Tillman has decided to let the law take its course in the case of Mildred Brown, a thirteen-year-old colored girl who poisoned a white infant in Spartanburg, by refusing to interfere in the case of John Williams, a negro, who killed his employer's child. Unfortunately the governor has prevented a lynching, as a secret committee had made all arrangements to kill him the moment mercy was extended. Amanda Tribble, a colored woman of Newbery, will hang for the murder of her own offspring. The other victim of the hangman's noose is a white man named William Wilson, of Anderson, who murdered his wife about a year ago.

GILMORE'S WIDOW

Will Not be Indentified With His Famous Band.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The widow of Patrick Sarsfield Gilmore will not be identified with the band made famous under her husband's leadership. To a reporter last night she gave her reasons for taking this step. "Since my husband's death," she said, "I have received numerous applications by musicians here and elsewhere to be appointed leader of Gilmore's band. These persons no doubt thought I owned the band, but I have no ownership in it other than of the music in its repertory, which belonged to my husband and is worth $50,000. While I have no doubt that Mr. Gilmore would have desired his band to continue after his death under his name, I do not think I ought to assume the risk of its management. I have therefore concluded that, under no circumstances, will I have any further connection with the band as manager and backer."

THE MORAVIA RELEASED.

The First Cholera Infected Ship at New York is Now Free.

QUARANTINE, Oct. 6.—The Hamburg Packet company's steamer Moravia, the first of the cholera infected vessels to arrive at this port, will be released today and allowed to go to her dock in Hoboken. The steamer Moravia arrived in lower quarantine on August 30, and remained there until September 20, when she was permitted to come to upper quarantine preparatory to the discharge of her cargo. The Moravia has been detained so long, and has been thoroughly cleansed and disinfected that all possibility of infection has been eliminated. She is the first of the infected vessels permitted to proceed to the dock in Hoboken.

A CLEVER THIEF

Robs a Real Estate Man of Diamonds and Money.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 6.—W. A. Meyer, of Milwaukee, a delegate to the real estate convention, who with his wife occupies rooms at the Iroquois hotel, was the victim Tuesday night of a clever sneak thief who stole from his rooms $1,000 worth of diamonds and $250 in money. Mr. Meyer reported his loss to the police, but the thief has not yet been found.

A Change of Pulpits.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 6.—Rev. Beverly E. Warner, of this city, has received a call to Trinity Episcopal church of New Orleans. This church is one of the largest and richest in the south.

TENNYSON IS DEAD.

The Poet Laureate Passes to the Great Beyond.

His Last Moments on Earth Were Both "Beautiful and Glorious."

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Lord Tennyson died at thirty-five minutes past 1 o'clock this morning. His passing away was calm and peaceful. Sir Andrew Clarke, who attended the poet in his last hours said, in an interview with a representative of the International Telegram company, just after leaving the death chamber, that Lord Tennyson's end was beautiful.

"In all my experience," said he to the eminent physician, "I never witnessed anything more glorious. There were no artificial lights in the chamber. All was darkness except for the silver light of the full moon which fell upon the bed and played across the features of the dying poet like the halo in one of "Rembrandt's pictures."

Hallam Tennyson, the poet's son, said: "The end was beautiful, calm and painless. He passed away as if in sleep. The watchers could hardly distinguish a final moment." Twice during the night the dying man smiled upon those around the bedside, indicating that he was conscious and recognized them, but he was too feeble to speak. Lady Tennyson bears her affliction with a fair degree of fortitude, but is nearly prostrated by grief and fatigue.

Soon after the poet's death the sky, which had been clear, became clouded and the light of the moon was obscured. Shortly afterward rain fell heavily and the scene contrasted strongly with that which had illumined the parting hours of the great poet. Sir Andrew Clarke, who had not left his patient's bedside for twenty-four hours previous, returned to London immediately after Lord Tennyson's death.

The last words spoken by Lord Tennyson were a few affectionate utterances addressed to his wife about an hour before his death. Throughout his illness Lord Tennyson showed grateful appreciation of every kindness and attention extended to him. Until he became too feeble to speak he frequently thanked the doctors and nurses, as well as the members of the household, who ministered to his wants.

About 10:30 last night the dying man swallowed with apparent difficulty some brandy and milk given to him by the physicians. This was the last nourishment he was able to receive. There after he grew gradually weaker until the hour arrived for him to rest.

Yesterday morning Tennyson was turned at his request to face the light. After looking at the window for several minutes he spoke of the brilliancy of the sunshine and the clearness of the air. Early in the afternoon he slept lightly. He awoke in full consciousness. He asked for his favorite copy of Shakespeare, turned the leaves until he found "Cymbeline" and gazed at one page for several minutes, moving his lips as if reading to himself. The watchers waited in silence for him to speak, but he finally laid down the volume without having uttered a word, and with his fingers still between the leaves, he fell asleep. The book was not removed. Late in the evening the moon shone with unusual splendor and flooded the death chamber with light. Tennyson watched it through the curtainless window with his hand still resting between the leaves of "Cymbeline" and thus he died. The space reserved for Tennyson in Westminster Abbey is just to the left of Browning.

ATTEMPTED OUTRAGE.

A Brute Attacks a Lone Woman But is Frightened Away.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 6.—B. H. Hopkins, a Western Union telegraph linaman, who has been engaged in putting down a cable for the Western Union company at Berkley, left his work last Friday and went to the house of a woman residing at Pondexter Place. She being alone at the time, opened the door and he entered. The brute seized the young woman and attempted to throw her down. She screamed and resisted vigorously, whereupon he tried to choke her into submission, but getting frightened after a tussel of several minutes, fled. Detectives were put on the case yesterday, and in a short time he was arrested and brought before the young woman, who positively identified him. He will have a hearing before the mayor today.

TROUBLE IN VENEZUELA.

Rumors That War Vessels Will Be Sent There at Once.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The Concord, which returned yesterday to Colon, will probably be ordered back to Venezuela at once as reports received at the state department indicate that matters are approaching a crisis in that country and that there is need for all three of Admiral Walker's fleet in those waters.

Death of a Mason.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 6.—Judge DeWitt C. Dawkins, a 33° Mason and grand secretary of the board of Florida grand lodge, died at his home here yesterday, aged sixty-three. He has been grand secretary for twenty-eight years and was also inspector general in the order of A. A. S. of America and a lawyer of ability and reputation.

Long Distance Riders.

VIENNA, Oct. 6.—Lieutenant Baron Ritzenstein, the only one of the German long distance riders who was thought to have a possible chance of beating the Austrian record, arrived at Floridsdorf this morning, having been seventy-three hours and forty minutes on the way from Berlin. This settles the contest in favor of Austria, Lieutenant Count Starhemberg having made the distance from Vienna to Berlin in seventy-one hours and thirty-five minutes.

NOT SERIOUS.

Actor Booth's Injuries Not So Bad as Reported.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Oct. 6.—Numerous enquiries were received at the Laurel house, where Edwin Booth is stopping, this morning, asking for the latest particulars as to the condition of the famous actor, and deploring the painful accident that befell him yesterday. Mr. Booth kept his room all morning, and no one was permitted to see him. His daughter, however, informed a reporter of the United Press that her father's condition was such that there were no grounds for apprehension. She says that since her father's arrival in Lakewood his health has improved, and that she expects a complete recovery from his sojourn here.

WHITE HOUSE NEWS.

The President Sends Faster to Woodburn—Mrs. Harrison's Condition.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Secretary of State Foster will leave Washington this afternoon for Woodburn, Mass., and will represent the president at the celebration tomorrow at the 250th celebration of the founding of the town.

General Greener, of Virginia, and Senator Hiscock, of New York, had short conferences with the president this morning.

The condition of Mrs. Harrison is unchanged.

STEAMER IN DISTRESS.

The State of Georgia Stranded on Rock in the St. Lawrence River.

MONTREAL, Oct. 6.—The Allan line steamship, State of Georgia, from Montreal for Aberdeen with flour, cheese, butter and lumber, besides 500 cattle, is ashore in the St. Lawrence river, near Cape La Roche, and may prove a total loss. She ran against a rock, cutting a hole in her bottom, which let the water in so freely that it was found necessary to beach her. The vessel has settled down at the stern and her cargo must be considerably damaged. All of her cattle have been got ashore except ten, which were drowned. Steam pumps have been ordered from Quebec and every effort will be made to save the ship and cargo.

Badly Burned.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 6.—Mrs. Josephine Groll and two children were badly burned by the explosion of a kerosene lamp in the apartments of Mrs. Groll, No. 11 Kossuth Place, last evening. One of the children subsequently died of its burns in the hospital. Charles Basch, who had run to the aid of the woman and her children, was also badly burned about the hands. When the firemen arrived the upper part of the house was in flames and was completely gutted before they were extinguished. Loss not stated.

A Spice Dealer Assigns.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Charles Nellman, dealer in spices, at 291 West street, assigned today to Wm. H. Fischer, with preferences for $9,000 to Annetta Nellman.

TO THE PEOPLE.

You are invited to Listen to a Forcible and Elegant speech Tomorrow Night.

To our Friends, the wage earners of Ft. Wayne: We are to be honored this week, by a visit from Mr. John Z. White, of Chicago, who is to speak at Randall hall, with the Hon. C. F. Darrow, Friday evening, October 7. Mr. White is the editor of the Artisit Printer, he is a member of the Typographical union, and for years has been one of the most intelligent and consistent champions and leaders of organized labor in Chicago. He is a young man of acknowledged ability and capacity, and as he proposes to talk upon the economic questions, he will say many things of interest to the wage workers. Waving his political views, we believe he should be welcomed to the city, and greeted by his friends. Therefore, as members of Typographical union, we invite the workingmen of Fort Wayne to come and hear Mr. White Friday evening. He will entertain and please you. He certainly will not offend you.

Yours respectfully,

WM. P. DUFFY,
EUGENE B. SMITH,
K. P. WATERS,
W. H. COVEY,
T. H. BAER,
A. H. LUPES,
CHAS. W. HABECKER,
H. O. FISCHER.

Several days ago a stranger approached the home of William Burch, at Standford, and handed his daughter an unsigned note, addressed to Mr. Burch, reading: "We intend to burn your house within a week and kill your oldest son." The daughter gave the note to her mother, who read it and began screaming; meanwhile the stranger rapidly disappeared. Both ladies were so frightened that they could give but an imperfect description of the messenger, and his identity remains concealed. The family stands high in that community and the son is regarded as one of the best young men in the neighborhood. They have no knowledge of any enemies. Mr. Burch has placed his house under guard and will fight for his rights. Standford and vicinity is infested with white caps and there has been trouble before.

William A. Simmons, of Frankfort, died of typhoid fever, contracted while nursing a son dangerously ill of the same disease.

NEARING THE END.

The Last Day of the Real Estate Convention.

The Delegates Preparing for a Pleasure Trip Along the Atlantic Coast.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 6.—This is the last day of the real estate convention, and much general business remains to be done. The all absorbing topic, however, continues to be the place for the next convention, and the future officers of the association. Denver has taken a spurt and is a dangerous competitor for the honor this morning. Detroit is still in the first ranks and has the support of Cleveland and many western cities. The northwestern combination is working hard for St. Paul, but do not seem to be making many converts. For association treasurer, W. E. Cutter, of Buffalo, appears to have the largest following, and for secretary there is little opposition to Assistant Secretary J. C. Barthoff, of Milwaukee. These two questions will be settled late this afternoon, just before adjournment. The unit rule has been adopted by most of the delegations. The Milwaukee delegates, together with a few from Nashville, St. Louis, Louisville, Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, are arranging for a trip east from Buffalo after the convention closes. They will go by special train through New York state, stopping at all principal cities, and thence to Boston. From that city they will go along the coast, taking in New Haven, Providence, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond and back to Pittsburg. It is expected that the trip will take about two weeks and that over one hundred delegates will participate.

It was a little after 10 o'clock when the delegates assembled for this morning's session. There was a change in the program. Ex-Governor Hubbard, of Texas, who was to have read a paper on "Our Changed Commercial Relations," had found it impossible to attend and his place was filled by R. S. S. Myers, editor of the Chicago Real Estate and Building Journal, who read a paper on "Alien Land Law Legislation," and was followed by Hon. A. S. Colyar, of Nashville, with a paper on "Urban Reality Legislation."

A paper on "Titles and and Transfers," by J. Craddeck Simpson, of Montreal, was next read, and then the convention took up matters of business. Nominations were declared in order and it was voted that nominating speeches be limited to three minutes. Colonel Turner, of Chicago, nominated Wm. E. Cutter, of Buffalo, for president, amid great applause. H. C. Hill, of Buffalo, and Mr. Warren, of Detroit, seconded the nomination, and it was made unanimous. Contrary to expectations, O. W. Crawford, of Chicago, was the only nominee for secretary, and Mr. Matt, of Nashville, was the only one for treasurer. Nominations for board of control were also made, and recess was taken until 2 p. m. The election will take place late this afternoon, when the above nominations will be ratified.

DISCHARGED FOR INCOMPETENCY

An Omaha Letter Carrier Who Got the Position by Fraud.

OMAHA, Oct. 6.—Otto G. Middleton, carrier at the Omaha postoffice, has been discharged for incompetency. It transpires that his hand-writing and orthography are not those attached to the examination papers bearing his name upon his admittance to the service one year ago. An investigation by Postmaster Clarkson and the head of the examining board revealed this state of affairs, and Middleton was questioned. The latter official says that Middleton was not the man who passed the examination and the inference is that he must have paid some one to pass the ordeal for him. Papers concerning the case were sent to Washington and Middleton was dismissed. The case is said to be unique.

SHOCKED TO DEATH.

A Lineman Meets With a Horrible Accident.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 6.—Peter Berthiam, thirty-five years of age, a lineman for the United Electric Lighting company, was shocked to death today while making a cut-out at the top of a high pole. He grasped both ends of a live wire and received 2,000 volts. As he fell he cleared the wires so there was no burning except on the hands, but caught on a pin and was half an hour hung head downward, fifty feet in the air. It was the first death of the kind in this city. The unfortunate man leaves a widow and three children.

A CHOLERA CASE.

The Patient a Resident of New York City.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Dr. Koerts, of 233 East Eighty-fifth street, at a late hour last night, reported a supposed case of cholera to the police of the Eighty-eighth street station. The patient is James Finley, twenty-seven years of age, 229 East Eighty-fifth street. The case is being investigated by the board of health.

Factory Burned.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The Kinney cigarette factory, at Tenth avenue, and Twenty-second street, was almost totally destroyed by fire at 5 o'clock this morning. Estimated loss, $150,000.

The greater part of the building, which was four stories high, was completely gutted, the dry tobacco with which the place was filled rendering the efforts of the fireman almost futile. Two firemen were injured by falling timbers. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

A CLEW.

Some Light Upon the Yesterday Morning Fires.

The Hughes and Bash Fires Now Thought to be the Work of One Man.

The police think they have a clew which may lead to the arrest of the miscreant who set fire to the Hedges and Bash property, on West Wayne street, yesterday morning.

On the night of the fire at about the hour of 1 o'clock, a policeman ran across a man not far from the scene of the fire, who seems to answer the description of the man who was seen at the window by Mrs. Bash.

The fellow was tall and wore a light slouch hat. He carried a short stick and seemed to act in a suspicious manner. The policeman did not arrest the man. It is recalled at police headquarters that a man answering this description was in the police court not long since on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He was arrested while trying a window in a private dwelling and sent to jail for a short time. The grand jury had the same miscreant up before them but after an examination did not return an indictment. The police are now of the opinion that the West Wayne street robbery and fire was the work of only one man and that he is the same fellow who attempted to burglarize the residence of Dr. Porter. The same chair which the burglar used at the Porter residence to aid him in getting into the window, was used at Mr. Bash's residence. It is thought the fellow was drunk or is half witted.

GOT A JUDGMENT.

The jury in the superior court in the case of Mary J. Hirsch against the Connecticut Indemity association, which was on trial in the superior court yesterday, brought in a verdict this morning of $1,392 for the plaintiff, who sued on a policy of insurance taken out by her nephew, C. S. A. Riegel, whose death occurred last September. The case will be appealed.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

County Clerk Sonder was busy today issuing marriage licenses and gave permits to marry to the following persons: Arthur B. Weeks and Alice T. Miller, William W. Wagner and Catherine O'Rourke, Frederick Kraft and Charlotte Leaman, Henry Martin and Martha A. Crozier, Washington Parker and Edith Calbetzer, Frank J. Inif and Emelia A. Bobah.

COURT PULLINGS.

The case against Joe Baum, who was refused a saloon license, has been appealed from the county commissioners to the circuit court.

The will of Engel Schophorst has been filed in the county clerk's office. He leaves his property, real and personal, to his children.

The Prudential Insurance company has not been sued in the courts. The name of the defendant mentioned in a case in the superior court yesterday should have been the Connecticut Indiana Mutual association instead of the Prudential company.

The case of Summers against Gottlieb Haller is on trial to a jury in the superior court.

Nancy J. Burns has been granted a divorce by Judge O'Rourke in the circuit court from her husband, Arthur Burns, on the grounds of cruelty and abandonment.

Justice Ryan presided at police court this morning. There were two drunks before him, August Trade and William Spencer. Both pleaded guilty and were sent to jail.

An appeal was filed from the order of the county commissioners in the matter of the petition for a road in Jefferson township by E. Bunting et al.

The will of Margaret Grenoville has been admitted to probate. She leaves the whole of her estate to John A. Couderat, her nephew.

Justice Franco is hearing the case of the state against Gottlieb Knoble, who was arrested on a charge of provoke preferred against him by Frank Hake.

Cyrus Spencer, the insane man, has been taken to the asylum at Richmond.

The secretary of the people's party convention has filed certificates of the nomination of their candidates with the county clerk.

Captain Dickman commenced two civil cases in Justice Hays' court this morning. They were both on account and were set for next week.

Constable Wise and Constable Bagley were conducting a sale of goods on execution on the court house square this morning. The property belonged to Fred Rogers and was taken to satisfy a judgment of A. J. Kellar.

THE DUCK SAID QUACK.

And the Doctors at Once Got on Their Dignity.

A number of well known and popular physicians have offices in the Fruit House block. This morning as these physicians were passing in and out of their respective offices they were considerably annoyed at some one calling up the stairway, "quack! quack!!" Closer investigation showed that the cries of "quack" came from a duck which was left at the foot of the stairs. Each M. D. laughed and said it was the other fellow.

A Texas Senator.

Hon. Edward Cunningham, of Denison, Texas, democratic senator from the Thirty-eighth district, is traveling through the north for his health. Mr. Cunningham is grand sachem of the Red Men and grand chief tamplar of the Good Templars of the state of Texas, and will visit the Fort Wayne tribe at its next meeting. This is Mr. Cunningham's first visit to this part of Indiana, but, like Mr. Potter of Texas, he thinks there is no place like glorious old Texas.

COMRADES MEET.

Sixth Annual Reunion of the 22nd Indiana Battery.

It is Being Held in the G. A. R. Hall on Calhoun Street Today—Many Members Present.

The sixth annual reunion of the Twenty-third Indiana Battery is being held today in the G. A. R. hall of the Sion S. Bass Post, No. 49.

Nearly forty members of the association registered on the roll book before the meeting was called to order by Pres. W. H. Ringwalt, of Maysville. This morning's session was of an informal nature, as the principal meeting is being held this afternoon. The morning session opened with prayer by the post chaplain, Rev. George Hollinger, of Columbia City. There was also some fine singing by a quartet from Hicksville. There was also singing by two little girls, Myrtle Chamberlain and Susie Logan, of this city. Speeches were made by Comrades L. C. Griffith, of Millbrook, Mich.; Jos. L. Gruber, Fort Wayne; Valentine Nichols, Brandon, Minn.; David Brown, Silver Eye, Ind., Decatur, Ill.; Frederick Gilpess, Huntington, and John McIntosh, of Hoagland. The meeting adjourned at noon until 2 o'clock this afternoon. The secretary of the association is Comrade W. W. Corbett, of Hicksville.

Speeches were made this afternoon by Capt. J. R. White, Rev. Nelson, of Spencerville, Dr. Stemen and others and the selection of officers is in progress as THE SENTINEL goes to press. The next reunion will be held in Fort Wayne next year. The Twenty-third Indiana battery was made up of residents of Allen and adjacent counties. The Battery left the city of Fort Wayne on the 22d day of September, 1862, with 156 men, under command of Capt. A. H. Myres, now president of Jeffersonville, Ind. The battery was all through the war. They were in the Georgia campaign; took part in the battles of Franklin and Columbia and the second battle of Nashville. They were in Tennessee and were after Morgan, the raider. They came back on the 24 day of July, 1865, with twenty-four men lost. Their record is a gallant one.

A campfire and love feast will be held in the G. A. R. hall this evening at 7 o'clock, and a general good time will be had.

SAND BAGGED.

Clinton Bourie Meets With a Serious Accident.

Clinton Bourie, a mail-carrier of this city, was assisting the handling of the scenery and stage machinery at the Temple last night. A heavy sand bag, used to aid in raising scenery, fell and struck Bourie on the head.

He was rendered unconscious and taken to his home, 117 East Wayne street, where he has a wife and three children. He passed a restless night, but is reported much improved today.

Preparing for the Funeral.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 6.—The funeral of Hon. James H. Rice will take place at New Albany tomorrow afternoon, at 3 o'clock. The honorary pall bearers to accompany the remains are Hon. John E. Lamb, Terre Haute; Hon. Frank Burke, Jeffersonville; Hon. Hugh Dougherty, Bluffton; Otto Gresham, Bruce Carr, S. R. Holt, William Nichols, of Indianapolis, and Hon. Perry Blue, Sullivan.

STATE NEWS.

E. A. Kingsley, of the senior class, has been appointed captain of the Purdue university cadets.

Charles E. Johnson, of Evansville, who shot and killed Jacob Lapp in a drunken frenzy, has been indicted for murder.

Engineer William Newport, of the Pan Handle line, was severely squeezed at Kouts while assisting in making a coupling.

While the father and mother and four children were seated about the supper table, lightning struck the home of Albert Kessler, at Rome City, and all were prostrated by the shock. Some of the family remained unconscious for two hours.

Charles Allen, charged with waylaying David Jones near Alfonte several months ago, and beating him nearly to death, after which he robbed his victim, has been arrested at Anderson. Various other offenses are also alleged against Allen, and he is wanted at Frankfort, Noblesville and Crawfordsville. Although but twenty-three years old he has the reputation of a dangerous character.

Elmer Willard, who in April last murdered Dr. A. M. Chard, of Logansport, and stood the officers at bay who attempted his arrest, has been captured in Kansas, and an officer has been commissioned to bring him back to Indiana. The murder of Dr. Chard was unprovoked. He was talking with ladies early in the evening, when Willard slipped up from the rear and dealt the blow that resulted in his death.

Lucky and Unlucky Plants.

The pear tree is in some parts of New Hampshire called witch-wood, and is occasionally carried in the pocket to keep off witches. In Nova Scotia it is thought that it is a cause of backache to keep in the house common hollyhock, called beef steak geranium. In Salem and Boston it is thought unlucky to keep "Wandering Jew," as a house plant.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT.

Cyrus Spencer Again Tries to Hang Himself.

He Uses His Iron Cot as a Temporary Gallows and Swings off at the End of a Window Cord.

Cyrus Spencer, the ex-marshal of South Wayne, made another desperate attempt to commit suicide yesterday.

Turnkey Chas. Lindsey, of the county jail, has been keeping a very close watch on the unfortunate Spencer and only his watchfulness prevented a tragedy yesterday.

Spencer was very violent all day and, although many of his friends, including his pastor, and every member of his family had been in to see him several times, he still declared that he was of no use upon this earth and the first opportunity he would kill himself.

The opportunity arrived. Turnkey Lindsey was compelled to leave Spencer alone for a few moments and while he was absent the insane man was busy. With his teeth he managed to cut the sash cord in one of his cell windows. He thus secured a cord some four feet in length. He then cunningly turned over his iron cot and stood it upon end against the wall of his cell. These iron cots are very solid and the legs, which are also of iron, are substantial enough to hold up two men. The cots are about eight feet in length.

Spencer threw the end of the rope over the upper leg of his improvised gallows and making a slip noose in one end, climbed up a few feet, put the rope around his neck and swung himself off. The rope broke. With cunning deliberation and the dexterity of a sailor, he spliced the short rope and went through the same performance.

This time the rope held, but just at the critical moment Mr. Lindsey, hearing a noise, rushed upstairs and saved the unfortunate Spencer's life. "I will do it yet," he said calmly.

This morning Spencer seemed to be totally minsal. He was a piteous object. He said: "I think the doctors should perform another operation upon my head. It is my only chance. I might as well die that way as kill myself. My head is all out of fix and if I have any more spells I will surely end my life. For pity sake do have the doctors do something for me."

His wife and boy were with him a long time this morning and he conversed with them calmly. The papers, consisting of the application for his admission to the asylum, have been sent on to Richmond and will have to be approved before Spencer can be admitted. They may not be approved and will scarcely be back here for two or three days.

MORE CHARMING

Than Ever is Manion Brothers' "Superba" This Season.

Since their conception of "Fantasma," the Hanlon Brothers have been at work trying, if possible, to produce a new attraction that would surpass the former. That such an undertaking would be a stupendous one, was not questioned, but that they would be successful was a great question. After many months of hard work they produced their new play and christened it "Superba." New tricks and new complications were introduced and the play given to the public. As a rival to their former attraction it fell short at first, but by persistent labor they at last succeeded in placing it on its feet, and today it has cast such a shade upon its sister that the former has gone into temporary retirement. It would be useless to attempt a description of the mysterious complications of the play. They are many, and they at once fill the spectators with wonderment. The excellent company played to a big house last night at the Temple and will repeat the performance tonight.

SORELY AFFLICTED.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haiber Lose Another Child.

The death of Gladis, the two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haiber, occurred at 3:30 o'clock this morning. This is the second time within a week that death has visited this afflicted family. Byron, four years old, died of diphtheria, and his remains had not yet been laid in the grave when his little sister was taken ill. It was reported that Gladis Haiber died of diphtheria, but this is false, and the following certificate from Drs. Buchman and Suttz is issued for the purpose of correcting the falsehood:

"We hereby certify that Gladis Haiber, aged two years, died at 3:30 this morning of membraneous croup.

"A. P. BUCHMAN,
"C. E. SPUTTZ."

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, at 91 Wells street, Rev. Northrop officiating.

Tom Bannon, of Aurora, has been sentenced to prison for two years for stabbing Anthony Malley. Bannon is an all around tough, and several years ago he was connected with the murder of Ed Jeffries, whose mutilated body was found on the railway tracks. Through the influence of the gang with which he trained he was able to prevent an indictment, his victim having no friends able or willing to push the prosecution.

Her Brother-in-Law.

A widow once married the tenth brother of her dead husband. One day a friend, who had not known the defunct party, saw his portrait in the drawing-room and asked the lady if it represented a relative of the family. "Yes," replied the bride, with a demure look, "it is the likeness of my poor brother-in-law.

WONDERS.

Four Which Are Most Certainly Amazing.

Something Which Has Set a Great Many Tongues Talking;

And Will Greatly Please and Particularly Interest You.

Wonders will never cease. The writer has had a share of these wonders some such his personal knowledge, thought enough important to be placed before the readers of this paper.

So many people know David Noyes of Manchester, N. J., that his own words will be strong: he "suffered from heart disease for six years," he said, "and for the past two years was unable to do any work whatever. I was told by my physician that I never could get well. I was also paralyzed on my right side, from the hip down, and suffered severely with lumbago, and a trembling of the hands. I am now hale and very active both body and mind. Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and feel entirely cured of all these troubles, and feel like a well man. It is the grandest medicine ever made, and all my friends are amazed at the cure."

The second wonder, Mr. Michael Crowley of 71 Colgrat street, New York city, will tell in his own way: "I was suffering from inflammatory rheumatism, and could not eat or sleep, and doctors' prescriptions had no effect in relieving me. After taking two bottles of Dr Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, I can eat and sleep well, and think I have seen the last of my ills. I am getting better every day. One week ago I could not walk, now I can walk a mile. It is a wonderful medicine."

The third wonder, Dysart of Northdale, N. B., will tell himself: "For the benefit of those who may be suffering and in need of relief, I desire to state my case. For over a year I suffered from a heart disease, a constant pain, with severe attacks of palpitation, until I anticipated a sudden death at any time. I became weak and debilitated, with loss of energy, despondency, etc. Hearing Dr. Greene lecture, he faithfully described my condition that I determined to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. My improvement has been continuous and rapid. I have taken five bottles, and the pain and palpitation are gone. I sleep well, have an excellent appetite and feel well."

The fourth wonder is presented by Mrs. U. G. Hicks of Walnut Avenue, A. Park, Rochester, N. Y. She says: "I feel it my duty to testify for the benefit of others. I had given up all hope of being cured; had doctors and tried everything. My trouble was neuralgia of the stomach. Dr Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy was recommended to me. I took six bottles of it. It perfectly cured me, and I earnestly recommend it to all."

Now when it is considered that this remarkable medicine is purely vegetable and harmless, and for sale by all druggists at $1.00 it seems strange that so many people should undergo early suffering from pains and weakness or disease when this sure and positive cure is within the reach of all.

It is the discovery and prescription of this eminent physician, Dr Greene, of 35 W. 14th street, New York, who is without doubt the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic complaints. He can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

TECUMSEH, the greatest of the world's poets, is dead but his beautiful verses will make his name immortal.

IT is estimated that fifteen thousand people attended the northern Indiana barbecue at Plymouth. Ex-Governor Gray and Claude Matthews were the principal speakers.

DR. MORRISON, of Churubusco, has had enough of the republican party and is out for the whole democratic ticket. He was a brave soldier and when at the front was wounded, and carries rebel lead in his body today. Dr. Morrison addressed the Churubusco McNagny club Tuesday night, and gave his hearers some cold facts that none could deny.

THE state board of election commissioners are estimating the vote in the state. Allen county is booked for 17,000 votes at the November election, Adams 2,711, Dekalb 3,085, Huntington 6,908, Jay 5,187, Kosciusko 6,600, Lagrange 3,950, Noble 6,275, Steuben, 3,863, Wabash 5,773, Wells 4,034, Whitley 4,177. The total vote in the state is estimated at 540,887, about 16,000 greater than in 1888.

JOHN CARWALLADER, of Madison, Indiana, writes to the Indianapolis News that "he has long admired its courageous steadfastness in battling against the iniquitous tariff," but he parts company with the paper in the campaign, since the flop of the paper to the high tariff support and "shall vote for Cleveland." He voted for Harrison in 1888, but "hopes to see him defeated in November and his crowd, including the canting Wanamaker, ousted." He concludes: "Cleveland has a head chock full of common sense; the country will be safe in his hands." Pretty good argument for a former Harrison man.

AT Chicago the democratic national convention interrupted its business to pass a resolution of sympathy and condolence with James G. Blaine, mightily stricken by the sudden death of his son. At New York Tuesday the democratic clubs adopted unanimously and enthusiastically a resolution requesting the chairman to transmit to the president of the United States the sympathy of the members of the organization in the days of anxiety, and to express their earnest hope that in the providence of God Mrs. Harrison may, in His own good time, be restored to health. These are things, says the Indianapolis News, which show we are all of one kin; that our party rancors and enmities are on the surface.

ONE genial neighbor's easy epithets of "popinjay" and "small-bore" will hardly pass for arguments. No doubt it is wicked to lay unholy hands on the ark of covenant, but we will stoop to a lower flight and respectfully ask the Gazette to tell us what Judge Taylor forgot to explain: How do you trace the connection between a protection tariff and inventive genius? Why has not "protection," the most perfect the world has yet seen, made a nation of inventors out of the Chinese? Just how high a duty is necessary to "mortalize a calkkin," or rearrange the molecular construction of a South Sea Islander's brain, or produce a kind of "bread" that will make a hungry protectionist penetrable to reason?

The official returns of the Maine election have been long on the road, but they are still interesting. The plurality of the republican candidate for governor is 12,512; his majority on the whole vote is 5,869. As compared with the vote for governor in 1888 there is a republican loss of 11,929. There is nothing particularly discouraging to the democracy in this showing.

GEN. WAYNE MCVEAGH has confirmed the report of his defection from the Harrison party in a private letter to the secretary of the Massachusetts Reform club, in which he announces that he will vote for Grover Cleveland. The McKinley tariff, in both its economic and moral aspects, the concessions to western silver republicans, the increase of pensions and the debased immigration stimulated by excessive protection are the reasons alleged by General McVeagh for his inability to remain with the party which has commanded his distinguished services for many years. Thus the second ex-cabinet officer of a republican president passes over to the democracy. Judge Dresham was post master general in the Arthur cabinet and General McVeagh was Garfield's attorney general. The latter had previously enjoyed many marks of his party's confidence. He has always been a leader of the best sentiment of his party.

Indirect Methods.

There is more than a grain of truth in the saying that versatility is an indication of instability. The versatile man may be called a genius because he can turn his mind or hands to most anything, but that very quality unfits him for any steady application which is the true basis of success in any undertaking. In support of this a writer in the Sunday School Times says:

"Singleness of mind or purpose will accomplish more in the long run than mere physical, or even mental, power. On the front seat of a carriage containing a pleasure party sat two little children. As both wanted to drive, they were allowed to do so by turns; and, under proper direction, when the road was broad and smooth, their driving was a success. At last, on one occasion, they agreed to divide the responsibilities, and each took a rein, the driving was of a distracting sort. The two little drivers had double the muscular power that either had when driving alone; but this more than doubled the inefficiency of the driving. The horses had no single-minded power back of them. So it is with the writer, the speaker, the business man, the mechanic, the teacher. It is so in the whole business of living; indirect methods, 'diplomacy' (so called), divided interests, shifting purposes, unsteady aims, all bring failure sooner or later, be our power what they may. Life, even with many more rules and no child end, is not life, but barren existence. A double-minded man is unstable in all his ways."

An Auspicious Event.

When the congress of the United States authorized the commemoration of the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America by an international exposition to be held in Chicago during the summer of 1892, it also provided that the exposition buildings should be dedicated on the twelfth day of October, 1892, with "appropriate ceremonies." Subsequently, by act of congress, this date was changed to October 21, 1892. Aside from the international interest in this fitting prelude to the magnificent picture of the world's progress that will be presented in 1892, this dedicatory service will furnish an opportunity for the world to behold the extent of the preparations which are being made for the exposition.

The task of preparing a programme of ceremonies which will appropriately herald the greater spectacle commemorating the discovery, development and progress of the new world has been a work involving great care and the consideration of many difficulties. The following programme of the dedicatory exercises and incidents connected therewith is submitted as the result of this thought and purpose.

The evening of Wednesday, October 19, a grand reception will be tendered to the president of the United States, his cabinet and other distinguished guests at the Auditorium, in Chicago. After the close of the ceremonies on each of the three succeeding evenings, there will be magnificent pyrotechnic displays.

The international idea is spreading throughout the world. The fast mail and telegraph bring us its news, and minds in touch. Just as national centures are rapidly disappearing and all the world is dressed alike, so all the people tend to become alike. The pioneer trader finds the great tour round the world less interesting than he thought, because manners, dress, dwellings, customs, all tend to a dull uniformity. It is better so, thinks a writer in Chautauquan, because national lines thus fade away. A common humanity takes the place of races and tongues. International affairs fill all the papers and international institutions increase rapidly, because now are all people akin to the brotherhood of man, and nations learn to live in the commonwealth of the world.

THE Peary relief steamer Kite returned to St. Johns, N. F., August 11, bringing back Lieut. Peary and wife and his party, except John M. Verhoef, who was lost in a crevasse in Greenland. All on board the Kite are in good health. Peary accomplished an inland journey of thirteen hundred miles, and one of the results of both expeditions has been a singularly rich collection of specimens of the flora and fauna of northern Greenland.

Of the 5,810,000,000 pounds of sugar consumed in the United States annually about 400,000,000 only are produced at home. Of this amount 350,000,000 are made from sugar cane, 40,000,000 from maple trees, 6,000,000 from beets and 1,000,000 from sorghum.

A ROCHESTER physician who has been experimenting on the subject avers that the mosquito can readily be exterminated by the use of petroleum.

DANIEL WEBSTER.

What He Thought of the Tariff Question.

Just at this time the following words of Daniel Webster, the "great expounder" of the constitution, may be of interest: "I said then, and say now, that, as an original question, the authority of congress to exercise the revenue power, with direct reference to the protection of manufactures, is questionable authority, far more questionable, in my judgment, than the power of internal improvements." He then goes on to say that, in his great argument in favor of free trade in the house of representatives in 1824, he had refrained from alleging the unconstitutionality of a protective tariff because the question seemed to be settled by contemporaneous practice. He also says that Madison's argument had made a strong impression upon him. "He has satisfied me," he says, "so far as the practice of the government had left it an open question." The question will be found in the famous "Second Speech on Foot's Resolution," works, 9th ed., vol. 3, p. 305. The "then" refers to some remarks made in Faneuil Hall in 1820. It seems, therefore, that for ten years Webster entertained strong doubts of the power of congress under the constitution to levy a protective tariff and that he was not convinced until he found it politically expedient to change his position on the tariff question. Perhaps it was that Webster was never a protectionist at heart. His speech of 1824 is one of the strongest arguments ever made by our earlier statesmen against that system. In explaining his change of attitude in 1828, he says that he has not changed his principles, but since his constituents had embarked upon manufactories he felt bound to vote for a continuance of the policy which had been begun against the protests of New England. It is too often forgotten that scarcely a single tariff act has ever been passed in the United States, a vote upon which has been an honest expression of any Democratic views. "Where e're down Tiber gurgling floats, the greedy pike is seen." When a prospect of gain is opened through legislative action, "log rolling" begins. The "you tickle me and I'll tickle you" policy prevails. Grab what you can, and the devil take the hindmost, is the "economic" principle too often acted upon. "The tax on knit goods could not have passed unless we had voted for the river and harbor bill," is the excuse said to have been given in 1882 by a Connecticut congressman to his angry constituents in explanation of his vote for the annual raid upon the treasury. It is edifying to think of a conclave of such "statesmen" sitting in grand debate upon the "highest good of man," and in their unselfish wisdom deciding just how high a tax should be laid upon raw wool in order to produce an Edison. LOW TARIFF.

DEMOCRATIC SPEAKERS.

The Meetings to be Held in This County.

Hon. William F. McNagny, the democratic nominee for congress, will open his campaign in this county Saturday. His dates are as follows:

"I was kicked by a horse and knocked senseless," said Chappie. "How soon do you expect to recover?" asked the cynical Maud.

"They tell me, professor, that you have mastered all the modern tongues." Professor—All but two—my wife's and her mother's.

Mr. Spooney, slipping ring on her finger—Does it please you? Miss Dash—Yes, indeed. I'm never so happy as when I have a new engagement ring.

An optimist is a man who thinks himself as good as he can possibly be; and a pessimist is a man who thinks his neighbors are as bad as they can possibly be.

A woman always carries her purse in her hand so that other women will see it. A married man carries his in his inside pocket so that his wife won't "get onto it."

A church in a country village lately circulated a paper among the congregation asking for contributions "for the purpose of paying the organist and he to blow the same."

Mrs. Bingley—How is your daughter getting along with her music teacher? Mrs. Pinkerly—Splendidly. She has only known him three weeks and he has already proposed three times.

Mrs. Boggs—Yes, I am a widow for the second time in my life. Miss Jagg—And will you marry again? Mrs. Boggs—Well, I am considering whether it would be wise for me to be so foolish.

He was a buyer in a large wholesale house and he was in love. One night he snatched a kiss. "Ah!" he exclaimed, "I am so well pleased with this sample that I should like to negotiate for all you have." He was accepted on the spot.

"Charlie," she said, softly, "I often think what a noble thing it is to have a sphere and fill it as you ought." "Have you?" returned Charlie after some study. "Maybe, tell me, do you think I am fitted to make a home happy?" "I dunno," said he absently. "Can you cook?"

It is the proper, fashionable and, besides, the healthful thing to eat ginger with ice cream. This is on the authority of a leading confectionery journal.

In the dining-rooms of some of the large cafes in Russia there is a pool of fresh water, in which fish of various kinds and sizes swim about. Any patron of the restaurant who may wish a course of fish for dinner goes to the pool, picks out the particular one he may desire, and in a moment the waiter has captured it with a dip net and sent it to the chef.

The licorice trade is not what it used to be. A few years ago every druggist and confectioner made lots of money out of stick licorice, licorice root, licorice lozenges, pellets and wafers. Every boy and girl had to have licorice, and their fathers seemed to think that the stuff was good for the little ones and gladly gave them nickels with which to buy it. The cheapness of good candies has killed the licorice trade. Gum drops are also a relic of the past.

"Don't Worry Me

From purely theoretical considerations a writer in Science gives it as his opinion that the almost unknown metal, glucinum, is stronger than iron, lighter than aluminum and a better electrical conductor than silver. Glucinum is a metal so rare that its physical properties are practically unknown.

An incorrigible office seeker died a few years ago, and his friends asked a well known journalist for an epitaph for his tombstone. The journalist suggested the following, which was not, however, adopted: "Here lies John Jones in the only place for which he never applied."

A Greenville, N. Y., farmer was sending a load of potatoes to the station for shipment, and told the colored man in charge of the wagon to bring back a bill of lading with him. Very much to the planter's amusement the colored man turned and innocently asked: "Hoss dus yer reckon I kin put a bill of lading in my mouth?"

A recently discovered letter of Carlisle gives us the opinion of novels entertained by him in the year 1866. To a budding story teller he wrote to encourage him: "Never mind "throw her own novel well aside for a good while or forever, and be shy even of reading novels. If she do read, let it be good and wise books, which not one in 10,000 of the kind called 'novels' now is."

"Trajan's Wall" is a rampart made of earth and about thirty-five or forty miles long, extending from Rassova, just at the big end of the Danube, to the shore of the Black Sea. Though only an earthwork it is a most formidable line of defense. Even now, eighteen centuries after its construction, it is from eight to ten feet in height, with a clear cut fosse in front of it.

One of the sights three miles from Ashland, Ore., is an egg-shaped lake, discovered by a Dr. Chapman, and a mile that has no visible outlet. There is a cliff on one side, though the other is open and 100 feet from the bank is a natural bridge of solid rock. Not at their rendezvous on the lake, and its depth has never been sounded, though it is believed to be very deep, and no doubt has been the crater of a volcano.

The highest railway in Europe is the Brienz Mountain railway in Switzerland, connecting the village of Brienz with the Summit of Rothhorn. It is run on the toothed-wheel system. It starts close by the shores of Lake Brienz and winds up the mountain past Goldried, Hausstadt and Oberstaffel and the incline is one meter in four. The carriages are partly closed and partly open and each compartment has two benches seating four persons a side.

HOW HE GOT RICH.

A Story That Finds Many Illustrations in the Business World.

There could hardly have been a greater contrast between two men who had been chums at school and afterwards at college.

The first had a tinge of gray in his hair, wrinkles on his brow, and was round-shouldered from long hours spent over a desk. He was trudging slowly homeward.

The second was well dressed, and when he walked had a more elastic step than the first. But he wasn't walking; he was driving, for he usual. There were some lines of care on his face, but altogether he looked prosperous and happy.

"That man is worth half a million," said one of the two men who had stopped to watch him drive past. "And that man isn't worth $500," said the other, sighing as he turned the one who was trudging along on the other side of the street. "I knew them when they were both poor," said the first. "Both started out to become rich, and for a year or so it seemed an even thing. Each was striving and struggling for the same end." "I know, and one failed." "Both failed." "I mean one failed to get rich." "Both failed to get rich. The other went into bankruptcy, and paid ten cents on the dollar. That's how he did get rich."

RENTA

is a mighty sad, old word. It is the parting salutation between people whom thousands of miles of salt water are about to separate. Mariners, known in foreign lands for their brave hearts, commercial travelers who have made all by trips around the world, and many, in their thirst of an ocean voyage, but to the first voyage in the initial trip to a momentous ordeal. Sea sickness is to be expected as a matter of course. How to prevent it? The Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a preventative of the nausea provoked by the tossing of a vessel. The invigorating tonic of the screw of the steamship, or the locomotive train, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, recommended to sea captains, ship doctors, tourists, traveler, land emigrants and the thousands who are prone to dreaded malaria of the bowels, digestive organs and liver in existence. Malaria, rheumatism, kidney trouble and debility are remedied by it.

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

Nickel Plate Foreman W. D. Miller Resigns.

Items of Interest Gathered at the Shops and Offices of the Manufacturing Establishments.

The Nickel Plate officials and employes were greatly surprised yesterday when Walter D. Miller announced his intention to retire from the foremanship of the company's round house in this city.

Yesterday Mr. Miller tendered his resignation to Superintendent of Motive Power John McKinzie, who was in the city, and after a rain remonstrance that gentleman regretfully accepted it.

Mr. Miller is one of the most popular railway men in Fort Wayne. He is universally liked and numbers his friends by his acquaintances. During his ten years residence in this city he has made hundreds of friends, who will be glad to learn that he will continue to reside here. He came to Fort Wayne with the Nickel Plate railway, being the engineer on the construction train. Previous to taking a position with the Nickel Plate company Mr. Miller ran an engine for thirteen years on the Toledo and Ohio Central railroad. After the Nickel Plate road was completed he was given a regular run, which position he held until he was appointed foreman of the round house, six years ago.

Who will succeed Mr. Miller is a matter of mere conjecture. There are, no doubt, plenty of applicants, but Superintendent McKinzie has not yet decided who shall have the place. It will, however, undoubtedly be given to one of the many good men now employed on this end of the line. When his successor is appointed Mr. Miller will leave for the Pacific coast, where he expects to remain about three months. Upon his return to Fort Wayne he will take charge of one of the engines hauling the through Nickel Plate passenger trains, and he has been assigned to the run between Chicago and this city.

BRIEF MENTION.

Conductor Layman, of the Nickel Plate, is taking a few days' rest.

Nickel Plate Engineer Al. Becker is on the off-duty list for a few days.

Mrs. F. Albert, whose husband is employed in the tank department of the Pittsburg shops, went to Mt. Gilead, Ohio, this morning. She expects to spend a week or two with relatives.

James Sullivan was again promoted in the Pittsburg car shops. He is now operating a single headed bolt machine, one of the best paying jobs of its kind in the shop. We congratulate him.

Philip Gable, of the Bass works, informs a SENTINEL reporter that his father, who now lies at Hope hospital, is in a fair way to recover from his injuries. The old gentleman's hip is not broken, as was feared. Phillip sat up with his father last night.

The work of putting up the safety gates at the crossing of Lafayette street and the Pittsburg and Wabash railroads was commenced this morning. There will be four gates, two on each side of the tracks, and they are being placed by the Saginaw Safety Gate company.

Theodore Brake, an employe of the Standard wheel works, met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon. While trimming a grindstone, the thumb of his right hand was crowded between the revolving stone and a board and the flesh and nail were stripped off. Dr. J. E. Miller dressed the wound.

I. Bolt, an employe in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, is off duty on account of some of his children being ill with diphtheria. It is one of the rules of the Pittsburg shops that no man will be allowed to work there during the prevalence of contagious diseases in his family. It is a wise rule and should be in force in other big shops in the city.

On a wager of $25 a train dispatcher, named Ross Ward, slid down Pike's Peak in eleven and one-fourth minutes. He came down by means of a toboggan made of a board about three feet long and one and one-half feet wide, on the bottom of which was nailed a cleat which served as a keel. This keel fitted between the rack rails of the cog road, and the board slid down the road like greased lightning. The operator braced himself with his feet against the outer rails. He now says he would not make the trip again for less than $6,000,000. The distance covered by Ward is nine miles, with a descent of 8,900 feet.

Fred Memowith is kept from his work in the air brake department of the Pittsburg shops by sickness in his family.

Ed Brookmeier, moulder in the Bass wheel works, addressed the democracy of Grant street Tuesday night. Ed is a good talker and his speech was enthusiastically received.

Jule Perrigay, the fireman who was so badly injured three years ago in the Nickel Plate wreck, was able to ride out last Wednesday to the cut road and called on his uncle and wife. Since the accident to Mr. Perrigay this is the second time he has been able to be out, and now it is with great difficulty and with the aid of crutches.

A. H. Polhamus, road foreman of engineers of the Pittsburg, this morning received a telegram from Charles Walsh, asking for a pass from Dunkirk, Ohio, to this city. Mr. Walsh's brother is dead and he wants to attend the funeral. Mr. Polhamus sent the pass. Mr. Walsh is firing a switch engine in the Pennsylvania's yards at Dunkirk. He will arrive here this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Beyhan will next week leave Stony Island for Los Angeles, Cal., where they expect to reside in the future. Mr. Beyhan is the Nickel Plate yardmaster at Stony Island, but has tendered his resignation. His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Miller, of Pleasant township, and the sister of A. and F. X. Miller, of this city. The old people are now at Stony Island, where they will remain until next Saturday.

Captain Mark Wilton Larkins and wife, of Meadville, Penn., are visiting Mrs. Larkins' cousin, Mrs. Oscar DeWitt, on Calhoun street, for a few days. Captain Larkins is the well known operator for the New York, Lake Erie and Western railroad, and during the past five years has been in all parts of the United States and Canada looking up stray cars for the company. This is his first vacation since he has been employed by the Erie railroad, and he says if he had not got married he probably would have never had a resting spell. Captain Larkins was married last Saturday in Columbus, Ohio, to Miss Beezie May Drew, a former resident of Fort Wayne.

A number of friends and relatives of the bride and groom assembled at the Cathedral at 6 o'clock this morning to witness the marriage ceremony of Joseph Hagenrather and Miss Ella Rousey, which was solemnized at that hour. The groom is the well known carpenter, now assistant foreman of the Rhinesmith & Simonson factory, and the bride is the daughter of a prominent farmer living near Dawkins, Ind. After a wedding breakfast the bride and groom, accompanied by several friends, repaired to the farm home of the bride's parents, where they were given a magnificent reception. After next Monday Mr. and Mrs. Hagenrather will be at home to their friends on Nirdlinger avenue.

The merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla is not accidental but is the result of careful study and experiment by educated pharmacists.

Get the Genuine.

If you suffer with lame back, especially in morning, ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS are a sure relief.

If you cannot sleep, try an ALLCOCK POROUS PLASTER, well up between the shoulder blades—often relieves—sometimes cures. Try this before you resort to opiates.

If any of your muscles are lame—joints stiff—feel as if they wanted oiling—or if you suffer with any local pains or aches, these plasters will cure you.

If you use them once you will realize why so many plasters have been made in imitation of them. Like all good things, they are copied as closely as the law allows. Don't be duped by taking an imitation when it is as easy to get the genuine.

If you always insist upon having ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS and never accept a substitute, you will not be disappointed.

HIS HIGH DISTINCTION.

And Thereafter the School Did Not Report the News of the Day.

A Chicago teacher was wound to storm an hour each afternoon questioning the children. Her fold concerning the news of the week, in order that she might impress upon them the importance of keeping up with current history. An episode, however, broke her practice. The very last question she put to the pupils was, "Have you heard during the week little lad became very much holding up both hands and cried, know, teacher," being hardly contain himself until he could. When it did he arose to his full height and in a voice pitched to the height of exclamation, "Why, my Aunt Teilby's been visiting that way! Uncle Jim's that was in the penitentiary for life, fell from the ladder he was painting on and broke his neck in died right away." The teacher exhibited red in the face and stammered: "It is only what you read in the newspapers that I wish to hear of." "Well," chirping up the little fellow, "I guess that got in some or the newspapers, anyhow, cos they didn't say he was our uncle. 'n some or the children had something happen big to them." And he resumed his seat with all the pride that comes of high distinction.

A Lost Letter.

A number of years ago a letter was dropped into the mail box, at Pittsfield, by a young lady. It was written to her lover, but never reached him, and, after some time, supposing she had wearied of him, or transferred her affections to another, he married, a few years ago, when the Pittsfield postoffice was repaired and overhauled, the letter in question was found in a crevice back of a partition and sent by the officials to whom it was directed. Though he was not at liberty to resume his acquaintance with the one who, owing to this unusual accident, was entirely lost to him, he felt it his duty to say to persons whom he met from that vicinity, that he deeply grieved to learn that the one to whom he intended to prove true has all these years supposed him false.

Gypsy Witches.

To become a witch the gypsies believe a woman must take instruction in witchcraft from a witch, often for years, and by payments must every day give her a drop of blood from the little finger of her left hand. A demoniacal spirit enters the woman after the prescribed rites have been performed, and thereafter, if she is a witch wills it, and in the form of some beast, do harm wherever the witch sends him. As a worm or small snake he can crawl into the body of sleeping mortals and cause sickness and even sudden death. Therefore, in sleep one must not keep his mouth open, and with the sign of the cross in every one's duty to cover the open mouth of a sleeper, even though he be a deadly foe, with a rag or else wake him up.

Browning's Memory.

Browning, it would seem, had a remarkable memory. A friend of Mrs. Crosse had told her that, in company with Mr. Browning and Cotter Morison, they were one day discussing Byron, of whom Browning was an intense admirer. He spoke of Byron's extraordinary powers of satire, and repeated a considerable length a portion of the "Vision of Judgment," beginning with the words "St. Peter stood at the Celestial Gate." When he finished Mr. Browning said, "I have not repeated those lines for forty years, but they are graven on my memory." Then he burst out with the remark, "Byron was one of the most wonderful men ever created, and to think of all this coming to an end at thirty-seven!"

Origin of "Arkansas."

The word Arkansas is of Indian stock. A tribe of Indians who rebelled and separated from the Kansas nation were celebrated for the fine quality of their bows. From this they were called Are or Bow Indians, and afterward "Arkansas."

House Wives.

An attempt is being made in Edinburgh to teach young women to become housewives. A diploma is given to those who pass satisfactory examinations in "practical housekeeping and management."

Could Support a Wife.

A lawyer sent a very heavy bill to a woman whom he had married. As she made some severe remark on the matter, the lawyer replied: "I wished to show you how lucrative is the profession I adorn. You could now see for yourself in what a profitable business I am engaged."

Expensive Tight Pals.

Newcastle-on-Tyne spent $50,000,000 some years ago in digging out a shallow stream. The income from that investment has always been $25,000,000, besides the increase in trade and the enhanced value of property.

One of the seven or eight Americans who have been elected to the new British parliament is F. A. Channing, a son of Rev. W. H. Channing and a nephew of the famous Unitarian preacher, William Ellery Channing. A sister of the young member became the wife of Sir Edwin Arnold.

Why is it that Strictly Pure White Lead is the best paint?

Because it will outlast all other Paints, make a handsomer finish, give better protection to the wood, and the first cost will be less.

If a color other than white is wanted, tint the paint with the National Lead Co.'s

Pure White Lead Tinting Colors.

These colors are sold in small cans, one pound being sufficient to tint twenty-five pounds of strictly pure White Lead to the desired shade.

Be Careful

to use only old and well-known brands of white lead. The market is flooded with adulterated and "so-called" white leads. The following brands are always strictly pure and are established by the test of years:

ANCHOR (Cincinnati)
ARMSTRONG & McKELVY (Pittsburgh)
BEYMER-BAUMAN (Pittsburgh)
COLLIER (St. Louis)
CORNELL (Buffalo)
DAVIDSON LEADERS (Pittsburgh)
ECKSTEIN (Cincinnati)
FAHNESTOCK (Pittsburgh)
MORLEY (Cleveland)
RED SEAL (St. Louis)
SHIPMAN (Chicago)
SOUTHERN (St. Louis and Chicago)

These brands of strictly pure White Lead and the National Lead Co.'s Tinting colors are for sale by the best dealers in paints everywhere.

If you are going to paint, it will pay you to send to us for a book containing information that may save you many a dollar; it will only cost you a postal card to do so.

Geo. P. Alexander, of Kendallville, has been appointed by Governor Chase as election marshal for the Twelfth congressional district.

Rev. and Mrs. S. A. Northrop, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Bonser and others are in Logansport attending the meeting of the State Baptist association.

A young man named Bender yesterday fell from a Wabash freight train while braking with a stick. The stick broke and Dr. Enslen patched up a bad scalp wound.

H. C. Berghoff, C. A. Zollinger, R. T. McDonald, R. S. Taylor, H. C. Hanna, Frank Stone, C. C. Gould, J. M. Barrett, A. Rothschild and Charles F. Muhler, of this city, were at Indianapolis yesterday.

Mr. Gruel, of this city, will take a bus load of his young friends out in the country on Sunday, the occasion being Mr. Gruel's twenty-first birthday. They will visit the farm of J. Hazlet, of Thurman, Ind.

The funeral of Gertrude, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brandt, was quite largely attended. She was only seven weeks old, but had won the hearts of the members of the household. Mr. and Mrs. Brandt desire to thank friends and neighbors for kindness.

A. J. Yon, the candidate of the republican party for congress, will speak at Swan on Friday; Angola, Monday; Avilla the 12th; Butler the 13th; Auburn the 14th, and at Forest on the 18th. In some of the meetings he speaks with Governor Chase and ex-Governor Porter.

The Logansport Pharos says: "Mayor Zollinger, Judge Taylor, R. T. McDonald and Mr. Berghoff, all of Fort Wayne, stockholders in the Logansport Electric light plant, were in the city a short time last night, guests of Manager Seiler. They were shown through the works and talked over the proposed improvements."

Summit City lodge, No. 36, A. O. U. W., will undoubtedly turn out in full force this evening as there will be work in both degrees, after which Dr. H. C. Havice will address the lodge on an appropriate subject. This is one of the most popular lodges in the city and is gradually growing in membership. Beginning with tonight and continuing for six months, the lodge will be called to order promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

Pastor Northrop was called home from the Baptist state convention at Logansport to attend two wedding ceremonies, but returned last evening. One of the weddings has already been reported in THE SENTINEL of yesterday. At 3 o'clock, October 5, at the pastor's home, he united in marriage Mr. Arthur B. Weeks, electrician, and a recent resident of this city, to Miss Alice T. Miller, of Cleveland. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, were present at the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Weeks will make Fort Wayne their future home.

Dr. E. B. Clark, patent attorney at Washington, D. C., sends THE SENTINEL the following list of patents which have been granted to Indiana inventors: Albert Baker, Fort Wayne, package; Albert R. Baker, Indianapolis, temporary binder; Cortland Ball, Indianapolis, fuel oil burner; Frank P. Boatman, Indianapolis, car axle box lid; Lawson A. Boyd, Indianapolis; railway signal case; J. R. Cox Clayton, Danville, corn planter; George H. Fisher, South Bend, card game counter; Charles Ralph Gray, Anderson, glass melting furnace; Frederick A. Hetherington, Indianapolis, photographic camera; Ralph D. Hulbert, Indianapolis, washing machine; Frank M. Merrick, Attica, shaft attachment for vehicles; Anson Portens, Marion, milk bucket; John Rogers, Elkhart, grinding machine; Daniel A. Smith and C. E. The Temperance club will have a meeting this evening.

The Allen County Democratic Soldiers' club will meet this evening.

The Eight Ward Democratic club will hold a business meeting tonight.

Frank Barr, of Adams, upon going to the barn to feed his horses, was fatally kicked in the breast.

Miss Kittie Dearbaugh, an employe of the Troy Steam laundry, has returned from a visit to Kentucky.

E. V. Emrick, Jap. Jones and J. M. Robinson spoke at a school house twenty-two miles east of here last night.

Mrs. John Baker, of the south end, is suffering severely with erysipelas. Dr. J. E. Miller was compelled to lance one of the ladies hands this morning.

All the members of the city department Y. M. C. A. and the ladies' auxiliary are invited to the association meeting tonight in the hall at 8 o'clock city time.

The Daughters of Rebekah lodge, No. 110, will have an important meeting at their hall. All the members of the lodge are requested to be present to drill.

The ice cream social given by the Daughters of Rebecca last evening was a decided success. Card playing and singing were the enjoyable features of the evening.

Fort Wayne lodge, No. 19, A. O. U. W., will have work in the first and second degrees tomorrow night. All members of the order are cordially invited to be present.

Dr. Seaton was at Ossian yesterday attending a soldier's reunion. He goes to Columbia City tomorrow on a similar mission. The doctor was a member of an Ohio regiment during the war.

The M. F. P. club met last night at the home of Mr. Frank Schwartz, 29 East Washington street, and decided to give a grand second anniversay ball at the G. A. R. hall, on Wednesday, October 19.

John Matthews, sr., of Porter county, was thrown out of a buggy in a runaway accident, receiving injuries that terminated fatally in a short time. Mr. Matthews was seventy-three years old and a resident of that county for thirty-five years.

There are some young people of the east end who make these moonlight nights hideous to people who would like to sleep by their boisterous laughter and vulgar language after the hour of midnight, when boys and girls of their ages should be in bed.

The dramatic company at Geary's Museum are winning laurels every night for their fine acting on the stage. The company is composed of the best artists and their plays are pleasing large audiences. The attractions in the curio hall are excellent.

On account of the prevalence of diphtheria in the city at this time the feeble minded institution will be closed until further notice to all visitors. This is a wise move. If that terrible disease would ever obtain a foot hold in that institution it would work a fearful havoc among the class of children there.

The bids for milk for the Feeble Minded institution for the ensuing year were opened today, and awarded to George Neukamm, of this city, who was the lowest bidder, the price being thirteen cents per gallon. This will be a saving of one cent per gallon over the previous year, which will amount to a saving of $275 for the year.

The eminent commedian, J. K. Emmet, will appear at the Temple tomorrow night in "Fritz in Ireland." In addition to fresh attractions, the scenery of "Fritz" is wholly new. It is of the most elaborate character and by the best scenic artists in New York. No money or pains have been spared to give Mr. Emmet's great dramatic gem an appropriate setting. The company carries four great sets with them and these sets are pronounced a triumph of scenic art.

The next entertainment of the star course at the city department of the Y. M. C. A. will be a lecture entitled "Brain," by Rev. Frank Bristol, of Chicago, on Tuesday evening, October 11. This will be his first appearance in our city and if the report of those who have heard him is to be accepted, none ought to miss him. He is not only one of Chicago's youngest ministers but also one of the most eloquent. Reserved seats can be secured on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

HON. J. Z. WHITE.

He Will Speak at Randall Hall Tomorrow Evening.

Hon. John Z. White, of Chicago, will speak at Randall hall, with the Hon. C. F. Darrow, tomorrow evening. Mr. White is a union printer, and a man of eloquence and ability. He will speak from a democratic standpoint. He is a great labor organizer, and champion of organized labor. All workmen of Fort Wayne, irrespective of party, are invited.

A CANNON BALL.

A Lakeside Physician Digs Up a Twenty-Pounder.

While making an excavation for a cellar in Lakeside yesterday, Dr Schutz found a ten-pound cannon ball, a relic of the days when Mad Anthony was hereabout. It was found at the depth of ten feet.

FORT WAYNE LODGE.

Clark'M. Simonds, of Red Jacket, Mich. Visits the Lodge.

Fort Wayne lodge No. 387, I. O. G. T., had the pleasure of a visit from Brother Clark M. Simonds, the chief templar of Red Jacket lodge No. 600, at Red Jacket, Mich., who filled the chair of presiding officer for them by request. Nine new members were introduced to the mysteries of the order and a fine program rendered for the good of the order. A debate entitled, "Resolved, That Women Have Done More for Temperance Than Men," was decided in the negative. Brother Simonds gave the lodge a rousing speech that was well received. At its close a motion was made and carried that a rising vote of thanks be tendered Brother Simonds for his instructions and encouragement.

CUPID'S CALENDAR.

The Wedding of Miss Clara Hu[illegible] and Chas. Guild.

Miss Kitty O'Rourke [illegible] Married to Wil[illegible] Diedrich.

[illegible] retiest society events of [illegible] to which society [illegible] looking forward for [illegible] occurred last even[illegible] Mr. R. F. Humphrey, one [illegible] Wayne's most popular young [illegible] daughter of Mrs. L. M. [illegible] was given in marriage to Mr. [illegible] Guild, one of the prominent [illegible] men of the city. A number [illegible] relatives and a few intimate friends [illegible] gathered in the parlor at half past five [illegible] and an air of expectancy pervaded the throng. Promptly, as the bells all over the city were chiming the hour of six, the Rev. A. W. Sedgwick followed by the two little attendants, Miss Esther Fleming and Miss Louise Humphrey both dressed in white and carrying the ribbons which marked the pathway of the bride through the crowd of guests, announced the coming of the bridal party. The look of earnestness and importance on the faces of the little girls was pleasing to see. Following them came the groom and best man, Mr. Ross McCulloch. Miss Tracie Guild, costumed in white embroidered India silk, acted as maid of honor and preceded the bride. Miss Humphrey entered the room leaning on the arm of her friend, Mr. J. D. Bingham, who gave the bride away. As a background to the pretty group made by the bridal party, the mantel was artistically decorated with white and yellow dahlias, the whole outlined with ferns. Soft strains of music were heard as Rev. Seabrease pronounced the beautiful Episcopal service which made them man and wife. Hearty, indeed, were the congratulations which followed and after the luncheon, served by Caterer Seidel, the party left for the station amid showers of rice. A number of guests accompanied them to the station, where more rice and ribbons were showered on them before they left on the limited for the east. Miss Humphrey's dress was an exceedingly becoming one of white Royal Bengaline, made princess, with narrow pearl trimming, and a beautiful tulle veil fell in graceful folds to the feet. The going away gown was one of dark blue cloth. The many presents received by the bride were beautiful and noticeable for their utility.

The guests from abroad were: Mr. and Mrs. Freyl, Capen, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Percy, Mrs. W. D. Maier, Mr. and Mrs. F. Runyan, of Chicago, and Mrs. W. E. Lewis, of Glenn Mills, Pa.

At the last meeting of the West End Sewing club, Mrs. Bahns' name was drawn from the basket, thus indicating that she was to be the next hostess. She declared that at that time she would be house cleaning, but if the ladies still insisted she would receive them. Knowing the cordial hospitality of her home they did insist and yesterday left their sewing at home and on charitable work intent, armed themselves with mops, buckets, brushes, dust pans and all the utensils used in the house cleaning work. They met at the home of Mrs. R. Learmonth and from there marched in a body to their entertainers. To say that Mrs. Bahns was pleased at the work accomplished is not necessary. Toward the close of the afternoon they were ushered into the dining room, where the table was set in true house cleaning style and the following dainty luncheon served from the thickest of China:

Stewed Chicken. Mashed Potatoes. Gravy.
Fried Ham. Baked Tomatoes. Corn on Cob. Pork and Beans.
Pickles.
Jelly. Apple Sauce. Apple Butter.
Cottage Cheese. Stewed Squash.
Doughnuts. Apple Cake. Cold slaw.
Pumpkin Pie. Apple Pie.
Bread and Butter.
Coffee.

Strings of doughnuts were given to the guests as souvenirs of the occasion.

A quiet but exceedingly pretty wedding was celebrated this morning at the Cathedral. Miss Kittie O'Rourke, the pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Rourke, was married to Mr. Will Wagoner, whose home is in Decatur, Ind., but who has been one of the best operators in the office of the Grand Rapids Railroad company for some time past. Exactly at 7 o'clock the bridal party, consisting of the maid of honor, Miss May Heidekin, the best man, Mr. Will Wagoner and the bride and groom, were met at the altar by Rev. Father John Quinlan, and the solemn ceremony of the Catholic church was pronounced. Only the relatives of the contracting parties were present. After the marriage carriages conveyed the party to the home of the bride's parents on McClellan street, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served by Caterer Seidel. Red and white roses decked the mantels and blossoms from the nooks and corners of the rooms and presented an artistic appearance. The bride's gown was white embroidered crepe festooned with embroidered silk chiffon, and a pair of diamond ear-rings and pin, gifts of the bride's mother, were worn. Miss Heidekin wore a pretty costume of primrose, yellow embroidered crepe. Mr. and Mrs. Wagoner left this afternoon for Kalamazoo, Detroit, and other cities, and on their return will be "at home" on McClellan street.

Last evening Miss Eliza Nestle pleasantly entertained a few friends. The hours passed all too swiftly, as the genial hostess and her brother, Mr. Charles Nestle, told interesting anecdotes of their travels and exhibited the many curios and souvenirs gathered by them in different countries. Miss Maude Miller, of Bluffton, assisted in entertaining by rendering some excellent selections on the piano.

Miss Flora Paul very pleasantly entertained friends at 332 Hanna street, last evening, in honor of her sister, who left this morning for Greenville, Ohio, where she will make her future home. Those present were the Misses Jennie Paul, Alice Howitt, Ella Paul, Mora Biol, Mary Hoys, Clara Paul, Elea Langstaff, Messrs. Hermie Cranly, Will Herbert, James Rice, Harry Morton and Will Stahr.

Another interesting nuptial affair was the marriage, at 6:30 o'clock last evening, of Mr. Walter Dederick and Miss Jessie Smith. The ceremony took place at the pleasant home of the bride's parents, 106 East DeWald street, and was witnessed by a large number of relatives and friends. At the hour appointed for the wedding the contracting parties entered the spacious parlor and took their positions beneath the arch of similax from which was suspended a "wish bone" of flowers of most artistic and beautiful design. Rev. A. K. Zartmen then pronounced the solemn words which made the happy couple man and wife. The bride was attired in steel gray handsome, trimmed with cream lace and bore in her hand a lovely bunch of roses. After receiving congratulations the bride and groom led the way to the dining room, where a magnificent supper awaited them and the guests. At 3:40 this morning they left for a short trip through the west and will make their home in Logansport. The groom is a prominent business man of Logansport and the bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith.

Mrs. D. Snyder gave a very delightful picnic in the grounds surrounding her home in Prospect Place this afternoon. The beautiful day added much to the enjoyment of this occasion. Those present were: Mrs. M. A. Eakin, Mrs. H. Hartman, Mrs. P. S. Underhill, Mrs. G. D. Crane, Mrs. D. L. Harding, Mrs. J. Hayden, Miss Emma Jenkinson.

The members of the Seven club held a business meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. C. M. Dawson and decided that the history and literature of Rome would be the subjects for study during the coming winter. Mrs. J. W. Bell has been invited to join the club.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Wolf, of East Wayne street, will leave October 11, for Mendon, Ohio, where Mr. Wolf will attend the thirteenth annual reunion of the Forty-sixth regiment, Ohio Volunteers.

Mrs. D. L. Harding will entertain a number of friends at dinner tomorrow in honor of Mrs. Robinson, of New York, who is the guest of Mrs. H. N. Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Culbertson are visiting friends near Loon lake, north of Columbia City, where they will spend a few days fishing.

The engagement of Miss Gertrude Gilbert to Charles Hartman is announced. They will be married in the near future.

Miss Stella Jackson is the guest of Mrs. Ira Rupert, of West DeWald street.

Mrs. S. B. Hartman is seriously ill with pneumonia.

COMPARING tea and coffee, Dr. Emmett Densmore says that their effect on the nervous system is the same, the difference being only in the presence of tannin in tea which tends to constipation, while coffee has an oil with laxative effect.

Colonized Very Early.

Iceland was colonized by Norwegians in 874. Christianity was introduced in the year 1000, and the people enjoyed a republican form of government and had a flourishing literature, until Iceland was subjected by Hakon, King of Norway, in 1264. The thousandth anniversary of colonization was celebrated in 1874.
